Research Project
Steering Committee’s Role

• members actively involved/knowledgeable about RPL activities in Canada
• representatives from a variety of national and provincial RPL/FCR organizations, institutions, federal and provincial governments
• defined scope of research within the limited time for the research project and participation of the Steering Committee
• made 6 recommendations for project
Steering Committee recommended that:

1. The joint term PLAR/QR system be replaced with the term RPL (Recognizing Prior Learning) system.
2. The RPL system for the study include PLAR and QR processes and practices as well as FCR.
3. The focus of the study be restricted to RPL systems developed within Canada.
4. The primary focus be RPL for foreign trained individuals.
5. The researcher build an advisory team of RPL experts – stakeholders in sectors from across Canada involved with foreign trained individuals.
6. The researcher use this advisory team as a focus group to develop the RPL survey instrument that would be used to determine excellent practice in RPL.
Steering Committee's Role

- assisted with creation of Principles and Performance Indicators for the RPL survey
- recommended contacts for RPL systems from provinces and territories
- reviewed and pilot tested the RPL survey
- reviewed the draft research report and provided feedback
Development of the Survey Instrument

- Focus Group Session to Develop a Measuring Instrument – Toronto: November 23, 2005
- ALFI model
- Creation of RPL Principles
  - Performance Indicators for each Principle
RPL Principles

Please refer to Report Appendix A - Pages 5-12

1. Transparency — The RPL System has clear, well-articulated RPL processes and applications of outcomes and is easily accessed. The system must not hold out false promises to foreign-trained individuals.

2. Values — The RPL System reflects the organization’s willingness and ability to promote barrier-free and bias-free accessibility and services to foreign-trained individuals.

3. Pre-Advising/Counseling — The RPL System considers the life and career goals of foreign-trained individuals prior to the RPL assessment process and provides access to information and resources to prepare for appropriate RPL and entry into practice, in a timely manner.

4. Client-Responsive System — The RPL System is a client-responsive system that is sustainable, cost-effective, and efficient for both the client and the system/organization.
RPL Principles

Please refer to Report Appendix A - Pages 12-16

5. Quality Assurance — The RPL System establishes policies and procedures for providing quality services and has a systematic process for reviewing and changing these procedures to ensure that the system continuously meets the needs of all stakeholders.

6. Evaluation/Measurement — The RPL System evaluates measures formal and informal learning acquired by foreign-trained individuals as it relates to their field of practice.

7. Transferability — Recognition awarded through an RPL System is accepted within the appropriate context in other provinces/territories allowing foreign-trained individuals to transfer equivalent credentials across Canada.
